Bulletin of Bibliography

VOL. 2 OCTOBER, 1901 No. 9

This Bulletin is published, primarily, as a means of communication between The Boston Book Company and its customers. A constant endeavor will be made, however, to include in each issue enough original matter of sufficient value to induce librarians to preserve and bind up the numbers. Each volume will be provided with a title-page and an index.

No subscription price will be put upon the journal, and numbers will not be sold. It will be sent to a selected list of libraries, customers or likely to become customers of The Boston Book Company. The circulation of the Bulletin will be increased in proportion to the interest shown in it, and in the special work of the Library Department of The Boston Book Company. Correspondence is solicited, and should be addressed,

The Boston Book Company,
83–91 Francis St., Back Bay, Boston, Mass.

EDITORIAL.

WE are open for business in our new and larger quarters, 83 to 91 Francis Street, Back Bay, Boston. Moving a stock so large as ours has been a long undertaking, and we hope our many friends will pardon any delays that have occurred during the summer in the filling of their orders.

Librarians coming to Boston are cordially invited to visit our new store, and should take a Brookline Huntington Avenue electric car to the corner of Francis Street.

Our telephone is "BROOKLINE 424" for those who cannot come out; we have telephone connection with our Law Department's retail office in Barristers' Hall, 15 Pemberton Square, and shall be glad to meet there by appointment our customers.

Now is the time to think of filling up reference sets of periodicals. May we not hear from all our readers this Fall?

NOTE. — Sonnet LX., p. 68-69, which originally appeared in the author's "Certaine Learned and Elegant Workes," published in London in 1633, contains the following allusions to Bermuda: —

Who euer salles neere to Bermuda coast,
Goes hard aboord the monarchy of Feare
Where all desires — but life's desire — are lost:
For wealth and fame put off their glories there.

Yet this ile poyson-like, by mischiefe knowne,
Weanes not Desire from her sweet nurse, the sea;
But vnseene showes vs where our hopes be sowne,
For, who will seeks the wealthe of westerne sunne,
Oft by Bermuda's miseries must runne.

MAGAZINE PERPLEXITIES.

A FURTHER NOTE ON "OUR DAY."

SINCE the statement regarding Our Day in BULLETIN OF BIBLIOGRAPHY for July, 1899, we have noted these facts:

January, 1899, number came, but in vain we waited for the February number. In due course of time the March number appeared, then followed in slow succession the May, July and September numbers calling themselves vol. 18. nos. 1, 3, 5, 6, 9. Evidently Our Day felt at this juncture it needed an additional month's rest, as it did not appear again until December, which number called itself vol. 18 no. 12. After repeated inquiries we were calmly told the missing numbers were never published, although we had paid for the full year with the understanding that it was to be a monthly. The pagination was continuous throughout the year.

Our Day can easily apply the quotation:

> "Variety is the spice of life;
> That gives it all its flavor."

It evidently has thought better of its hop, skip and jump fashion of doing things, for it struts serenely through the year 1900, coming monthly.

The January number for 1901 is about twice the regular size, evidently despising the day of small things, and since then the periodical has come regularly in its larger size.
